DETAILED ACTIONClaim Objections

1. Claims 1-16 are objected to because of the following informalities:

- In claim 1:
 - line 6, there should be a comma after "position"
 - line 8, "the force" should be "a force", and "the said ramp" just can be "said ramp"
 - line 9, again, "the said lip" can just be "said lip"
 - line 9, delete period after "assembly" and use a comma instead
 - line 10, "an actuator mechanism" should be "said actuator mechanism" since it was already set forth in line 8
 - line 15, "the actuator assembly" lacks antecedent basis; perhaps applicant meant to say "the actuator mechanism"?
 - line 17, delete the period after "present" and use a comma instead.
- In claims 2-16, wherever you have "the said", just use "said" or "the", not both.

Appropriate corrections are required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 9, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Alexander (US 6,487,741).

Regarding claim 1, Alexander discloses a hydraulically operated dock leveler (10) comprising:

- a ramp assembly, seen as deck (20), hinged at its rear edge to a supporting frame and movable through a range of positions with a lip assembly, seen as lip (30), hinged to the forward edge of the ramp assembly and movable as well,
- a single hydraulic cylinder means, disclosed in column 5, lines 1-3,
- an actuator mechanism connected to and rotational around the forward hinge, as shown in Figs. 1-3, the actuator mechanism comprising an extension crank, seen as crank (35), and an actuator crank seen as lip bar (40), and a link from the actuator assembly to the frame, seen as lip spring (41), and a spring mechanism, seen as spring (66), and
- a motor pump unit, which is inherent in Alexander's disclosure of a hydraulic cylinder in column 5, lines 1-4, since a motor pump unit is needed to operate a cylinder.

Regarding claim 9, the ramp of Alexander will lower when the cylinder is not under pressure.

Regarding claim 16, the tension of the spring (66) of Alexander is capable of being adjusted.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2-8 and 10-15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
